Jeff Minor
Spinal Cord Injury Patient

CHOOSE OKLAHOMA'S PROVIDER OF CHOICE

At the age of 18, Jeff Minor broke his neck during a motocross competition. While he was receiving trauma care, Jeff's family had to decide where they wanted Jeff to receive rehabilitation care.

"Up until that point, we never even realized we had a choice," recalls Carol, Jeff's mom. "So after researching several rehab hospitals – many from other states – there was no doubt in our minds where Jeff was going to go. We had one of the nation's finest facilities right here under our nose. Jim Thorpe Rehab was an easy choice."

NATIONALLY RENOWNED REHAB LEADER

INTEGRIS Jim Thorpe Rehabilitation Hospital offers Oklahoma's foremost collection of services for those needing treatment for traumatic brain injury, spinal cord injury, stroke and amputation. It's one of the nation's largest and most respected rehab facilities.

When Jeff first entered Jim Thorpe, his prognosis was "may not survive." One year later, still classified as quadriplegic, Jeff walked out of Jim Thorpe under his own power. Today, he's even racing mountain bikes and is an inspiration to all who know him.

"I'm glad we discovered we had a choice," says Carol. "Now I know why people from all over the country come here. The doctors, the staff, the entire team, they truly love what they do. And that's reflected in the patients – just look at Jeff today!"
